

Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world:...

— John 18:36 —

One Nation Under God?

Proverbs 16:18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.

This country has changed a lot in my lifetime. It is certainly not the country it was when I was a kid. I think it was changing a long time before most people noticed. Most of it was done incrementally so that we would not notice so much that it was happening. When did they begin teaching evolution in school and not allowing talk of God? When did they begin to abort our babies as a form of birth control so that you could have your fun without the "consequences" of responsibility? When did the drug culture become "cool"? When did they begin trying to force people to accept homosexuality as a normal behavior? When McCarthy said communists were infiltrating everything in this country, was he right? This did not just happen last week. It was done by design so that people would beg for more government intervention.

When a nation by policy denies God, what do we have? When people are taught that God does not exist and evolution is how we got here, there is no basis for morality. Your morality is whatever you decide you want it to be, or whatever you can get away with; survival of the fittest. Or as Alistair Crowley, the prophet of the new age said, "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law." Which means the most conscientious are at the mercy of the most ruthless, and the ruthless have no mercy. The ruthless run this country. In this country we swear oaths with one hand on the very book in which Jesus Himself said not to swear oaths. America may just be evidence of what you can get in the short term if you sell your soul to the devil. I do not think America is so great, but I think we are headed for a great fall.

Never Forget!

There are lots of theories about 9/11. Many are just disinformation. I have never been convinced of the "no plane" theory. I have seen all of the conjecture, which sounds convincing, but not completely. I think some of the theories are a big distraction from the basic, undeniable facts. Like, what actually caused the destruction. I think it has been conclusively proven that massive amounts of nano-thermite was used. But I think there were other things used in conjunction. What those were I do not believe has been conclusively proven. Whether it was nuclear, directed energy, or whatever, it was definitely explosive. Saying "explosive" does not necessarily define what kind of explosives were used.

There are many ways of exploding things. But the fact is, whatever they used was explosive. It was more powerful than gravity in that it could propel multi-ton steel beams laterally and impale them into neighboring buildings. I have found the quickest way to convince the unconvinced is with the most basic, understandable, undeniable truth.

Why the Official Version of 9/11 Cannot Be True: Conservation of Momentum!

The Twin Towers were blown up in a cascading, floor by floor, from the top down demolition, like lighting a pack of firecrackers.

Even if the floors which had fire had gotten hot enough to weaken the steel in those areas, and those floors collapsed, the collapse would not have proceeded any further. Because the floors below, which were not heated or weakened and were progressively larger and stronger structurally, would have stopped the collapse. It could not happen. Even if it could have (it could not), it would have taken minutes, not seconds, because every floor would have presented resistance and slowed the collapse until it stopped. Just like stepping on the brakes in your car.

The Twin Towers were 110 stories tall. They came down in ten seconds each. That is eleven floors per second. Try to clap your hands eleven times in one second. It is physically impossible to have a gravitational collapse at that speed. The speed of the collapse is key. Imagine an eleven story building disintegrating into a cloud of dust in one tick of a clock. It cannot happen unless it is blown up. Explosives were used. Which begs the question, "Who could have had that kind of access to the buildings?"

There is an old saying that goes something like this, "The best way to rob a bank is to own one."

How did there come to be massive pools of molten steel which remained molten for weeks afterward? You do not get that from any ordinary fire.

9/11: Molten Metal at Ground Zero³

World Trade Center 7, also known as the Solomon Brothers building, was not hit by a plane, yet, it inexplicably collapsed at 5:20 pm 9/11.
